PROJECTS

Frontend Deployment Service 🔗 | NodeJS, ReactJS, Redis, Amazon S3, TypeScript

01 2024

- Developed a Node.js and React.js application leveraging Amazon S3, Redis, and GitHub integration to streamline the deployment process for React or Next.js frontend applications.
- Implemented a scalable architecture utilizing Redis as a communication layer between two backend services – an upload service responsible for handling file uploads to S3 and a deployment service orchestrating the deployment process
- Upon successful deployment, users are provided with a convenient access link, granting immediate access to their deployed application. By seamlessly integrating deployment with accessibility, the project aims to enhance user experience and streamline the development workflow for frontend developers.

Student Management System 🔗 | SpringBoot, Spring Data JPA, MySQL, Thymeleaf
